

Legal Case Study Report

Document type: Synthetic court-case document for PDF question-answering evaluation.

1. Case Details

Case Title: State v. Arun Kumar
Case Reference: CR-2026-117
Court: District and Sessions Court
Date of judgment: 22 July 2026

2. Facts of the Case

According to the case record, the prosecution alleged that on 18 February 2026 at approximately 9:30 PM, the accused Arun Kumar entered a residential premises following a dispute with the occupant, Ravi Menon. The prosecution stated that an altercation occurred and that Ravi Menon sustained a serious injury after being struck with a metal object. The accused denied intentionally causing the injury and stated that the object was used during a struggle.

3. Evidence Recorded

The record refers to statements from two witnesses who were present near the premises, a medical examination report concerning the injured person, photographs of the scene, and recovery of a metal rod from the premises. The court also considered the statements made by the accused during the proceedings.

4. Relevant Legal Provisions

The charge sheet refers to Section 307 IPC concerning attempt to murder and Section 323 IPC concerning voluntarily causing hurt. The document records these provisions as the sections relied upon in the case. The court considered the evidence in relation to the ingredients of the charged offences.

5. Court's Findings

The court found that the prosecution established that an assault occurred and that the injured person suffered bodily harm. The court also recorded that the evidence did not establish beyond reasonable doubt that the accused acted with the specific intention required for the charge under Section 307 IPC. The court therefore did not convict the accused under Section 307 IPC.

6. Conviction

The court convicted the accused under Section 323 IPC for voluntarily causing hurt. The finding under Section 323 IPC was based on the evidence regarding the assault and the resulting injury.

7. Sentence

For the conviction under Section 323 IPC, the court imposed six months of simple imprisonment and a fine of ₹5,000. The judgment states that, in default of payment of the fine, the accused shall undergo an additional one month of simple imprisonment.

8. Case Outcome

The accused was acquitted of the charge under Section 307 IPC and convicted under Section 323 IPC. The sentence imposed by the court is the sentence recorded in this document.

9. Important Note for QA Evaluation

This synthetic document is intended for retrieval and question-answering testing. Questions concerning IPC sections, allegations, facts, findings, conviction, punishment, or sentence should be answered using only the information explicitly recorded in this document.